

Resume For Andrew Baker

Narrative:

Andrew Baker has first hand experience with the rehabilitative capabilities of tai chi. After four years of physical rehabilitation following a work related injury, he was only able to perform part-time, restricted duty work and had a minimized quality of life. Mr. Baker began studying tai chi and is now able to work full-time and enjoys a full and complete life. His experience with the physical rehabilitation process coupled with his work experience as an adult educator, make him particularly effective with senior, physically handicapped, and physical rehabilitation populations.

He teaches senior classes, wellness programs, and recreation programs. He is a published author and a member and judge for the US Wushu Union and the Amateur Athletes Union.

Work Experience:

Movement Arts Institute, Inc.
Head Instructor, Owner

Integrated Wellness Consultants dba Jose Johnson's Chinese Martial Arts and Wellness Center
Instructor, Partner

Alexander Nash Agency
Instructor, Technical Writer

Education:

Indiana University of Pennsylvania; Major: Fine Arts
Freisan, Kaye Associates: Certified Adult Trainer

Recent Feedback:

“(Andrew is) very articulate and able to translate difficult concepts in a way most people can understand.” – Rick Camus (Student)

“Bring Andrew back, this is the way to guarantee interest. Andrew makes this class enjoyable.” – Michael Johnson (Student)

“Andrew was easy to work with, well liked by the students, and willing to put in the extra time to adapt courseware to meet the students needs.” - Eileen Queen (Training Specialist)

“ Very logical in his organization of the subject matter. A very smooth and polished delivery. Highly interactive. Great stage presence. Maintains eye contact with each of his learners. Very conversational. Nurturing to students as they responded to his questions. Frequently praised students. Pleasant speaking voice. Enthusiastic and energetic. Gestures aided in communication. Very fluent delivery.” - Rosemarie Rosetti (Instructor)